City Council Welcomes New Police Chief

In October, members of the Wilsonville City Council welcomed new Police Chief Rob Wurpes, a Lieutenant with the Clackamas County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) that the City contracts with for law-enforcement services. Chief Wurpes has 18 years of experience with CCSO as a public information officer, police chief for the former City of Damascus and currently with the inter-agency Tri-Met police task force. He succeeds Chief Adam Phillips, who retired in August to accompany his spouse on a relocation employmentpromotion to Japan.

City Staff Member Honored for Pollinator-Habitat Improvement

Wilsonville Natural Resources Manager Kerry Rappold was named in October as a recipient of the 'Rachel Carson Awards' for his efforts in the community to protect and improve the living environment for bees and other pollinating insects such as butterflies and beetles. Rappold was honored with the award by Eugene-based Northwest Center for Alternatives to Pesticides (NCAP), a nonprofit that works to protect community and environmental health and inspire the use of ecologically sound solutions to reduce the use of pesticides.

Rappold was instrumental in starting the City's "Bee Stewards" program focused on improving pollinator habitat, decreasing municipal pesticide use and educating the public on pollinator environmental needs. After Wilsonville gained undesired publicity when over 50,000 bumble bees died in June 2013 due to an improperly applied neonicotinoid pesticide by licensed applicators in the parking lot of a local shopping center, members of the City Council indicated a desire to make something good come out of the tragic Starting with a local allocation of $21,433 of Wilsonville-Metro Community Enhancement Program funds, Rappold worked with NCAP's Sharon Selvaggio, Healthy Wildlife and Water Program Director and a former manager of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Willamette Valley birding refuges. Together,

The City of Wilsonville in partnership with Repub-L lic Services is holding the annual, free Wilsonville Leaf Drop-Off Day on Saturday, Nov. 18, 9 am-2 pm. During these hours local residents are invited to dropoff leaves only—and no other yard debris—at the City Hall parking lot, 29799 SW Town Center Loop East. City Public Works Dept. employees will be on hand to assist residents with disposing of leaves into large dumpsters provided by Republic Services.

While no fee is charged for dropping-off leaves, the City suggests that participants bring a cash or check donation for Wilsonville Community Sharing, operator of the community food bank and social-services referral agency; to learn more, see www.Wilsonville CommunitySharing.org.

The City recommends that residents use large paper bags available from local hardware stores that can be recycled with leaves—rather than using plastic bags that are not recyclable. The leaf-collection event is a component of Republic Services' franchise agreement for solid-waste collection and disposal services with the City of Wilsonville.

"This is a great opportunity for residents to properly dispose of leaves that pile up this time of year and at the same time help out a great local non-profit partner of our community," said City Manager Bryan Cosgrove.

"Republic Services will haul-off your leaves for free and transport them to a composting facility to be repurposed as nutrient-rich soil for local gardens and flower beds," said Republic Services Operations Manager Frank Lonergan.

The City asks residents to never rake leaves into the street as they become a major problem for the storm sewer systems and appreciates residents who clear leaves away from their nearby storm drains. Leaves clog storm grates and pipes that contribute to back-ups and/or flooding. Excess accumulation of leaves on streets also causes a safety problem for motorists and bike riders whose tires may slip.

Leaves can also be placed in residents' yard-debris carts that are collected every week; however, avoid compacting leaves or other yard debris because doing so causes the barrels to become very heavy and creates collection problems for the truck cart-lifts.

City Seeks Volunteers for Committee Openings

The City of Wilsonville is fortunate to have community members who are engaged in local government and contribute their time and energies to public service. The City has a total of eight openings that become available at the start of 2018 on various boards and commissions.

Volunteers who serve on the City's committees make a valuable contribution towards improving the community and local government's ability to serve residents, businesses and visitors. The deadline to submit an application for consideration of appointment is Thursday, Nov. 30, 4:30 pm.

Members of the Community Enhancement Committee

The Budget Committee consists of all five City Council members and five residents who serve three-year terms. The committee meets as necessary during the year and at a minimum must meet each spring to review the budget proposed by the City Manager for recommendation to Council.

The Planning Commission is a seven-member panel responsible for making recommendations to the City Council on all legislative land-use and planning matters. The commission also fulfills the role as the City's Committee for Citizen Involvement (CCI) that conducts work sessions and informal public meetings intended to encourage an exchange of ideas without the formality of public hearings.

The Tourism Promotion Committee has two openings for professionals who have a direct connection with the hospitality and tourism industry, and need not work nor live in Wilsonville. The committee is charged to implement the tourism development strategy and oversee City-County tourismdevelopment grant programs.

The Wilsonville-Metro Community Enhancement Committee has three openings. The sevenmember committee, which includes two City Council members and a Metro Council member, is responsible for reviewing in the March-April timeframe Community Enhancement Program project submissions and making funding recommendations to City Council.

Other City boards that currently do not have openings but for which community members are welcome to submit applications at any time include the Development Review Board (DRB), Library Board and Parks and Recreation Advisory Board.

For more information or to apply, please contact Kim Veliz, City Recorder, at 503-570-1506; veliz@ ci.wilsonville.or.us. Applications are also available online at the City's website, www.ci.wilsonville.or.us/ apply.

Bee Stewards Wilsonville Project Goals

- 1. Create productive pollinator habitats in Wilsonville, on properties owned by the City and West Linn-Wilsonville School District, utilizing volunteers and youth organizations to help with plantings and maintenance.
- 2. Develop an Integrated Pest Management (IPM) plan for City-owned properties.
- 3. Establish interpretive signs near the pollinator gardens to enhance community understanding of pollinators and their habitat needs.
- 4. Provide education and tools for Wilsonville residents to create pollinator habitat in their own yards.
- 5. Expose students to pollinator education via classes, service learning, youth crews and club settings and establish a student-led monitoring program.

Special Joint City Council-Planning Commission Meeting in December on Town Center Plan

The Town Center Plan project team presents before a special joint meeting of the City Council and Planning Commission on Monday, Dec. 4, 5-7 pm, at City Hall, 29799 SW Town Center Loop East.

Members of the Town Center Task Force, composed of both residents and business managers, in conjunction with City staff and the consultant team have spent the last couple of months analyzing public input and drafting initial concepts for the future of the 100-acre Town Center area. Over the past year, the Planning Division has received valuable community feedback for the future of Town Center through summer events, online surveys, comment cards and interactive activities.

For more information or to submit suggestions for the Town Center plan, see www.Wilsonville-TownCenter.com; or contact Miranda Bateschell, Planning Manager, at 503-570-1581; bateschell@ci.wilsonville.or.us.

POLICE CHIEF'S CORNER

Stricter Hands-Free Driving Law Now in Effect

Distracted driving is a factor in 80 percent of traffic crashes, and the number of traffic crashes in the county, Oregon, and around the world has been rising. A new state law that went into effect on Oct. 1 may help to reverse that trend.

Oregon now forbids drivers to hold or use any mobile electronic device while driving.

Oregon now forbids drivers to hold or use any mobile electronic device while driving, including a cell phone, GPS system, tablet and more—anything that can be used for texting, talking, emailing, entertainment, navigating or accessing the Internet. The law extends to when drivers are stopped at an intersection or in a traffic jam. If you need to use your electronic device, you must first safely stop in a designated parking spot.

Punishment for illegal use of cell phones and the like while driving has also increased. A first offense that doesn't contribute to a crash is a Class B violation with a maximum fine of $1,000; the court may suspend the fine if the driver completes an approved distracted driving avoidance class, and shows proof to the court, within four months. Note, however, that only the fine is suspended; the violation is still recorded on the offender's driving record, which can impact auto insurance rates. A second offense, or if the first offense contributes to a crash, is Class A violation with a maximum fine of $2,500. A third offense in 10 years is a Class B misdemeanor and could result in a $2,500 fine and up to six months in jail.

or smart phone when driving — "Hands on the wheel. Mind on the road."

For several years, Clackamas County's "Drive to Zero" campaign has focused on reducing injuries and fatalities on our roadways. The goal is to reduce by 50 percent fatal and serious-injury crashes by 2022. Based on recent data, this could save 16 lives and prevent 125 serious injuries every year in Clackamas County alone.

Relatedly, more than 90 percent of crashes include human behavior as a contributing factor. Distracted driving, young drivers and leaving the roadway are the top-three contributing factors to fatal crashes in Clackamas County. Each negative factor can be prevented with steps such as being attentive, providing young drivers with parental supervision and slowing down.

Main Reasons Passengers Choose to Ride SMART

This past August, SMART conducted a rider survey to help better understand who our riders are, why they ride and where they are traveling. Over the course of four days, SMART surveyed all routes and gathered a total of 449 completed surveys. This 29-question survey provides information useful to improve public outreach and help in future planning efforts.

When asked why riders use the SMART system, respondents gave three main reasons:

- 1) The first reason is that SMART provides transportation for those who do not own a vehicle, which is 51 percent of riders.
- 2) The second main incentive for riding SMART is the cost savings. As household transportation costs continue to rise, SMART is happy to provide free local service and low fares to south Portland, Salem and Canby.

3) Lastly, riding SMART is more convenient and less stressful for people than driving—especially on congested roads. SMART makes connections with TriMet WES to ensure transfers between systems are seamless. To read the full survey results, visit www.ridesmart.com/RiderSurvey2017.

This year due to our official non-profit status, we are growing with the innumerable contributions from the art community, including Bill

Library Foundation Raises Funds to Improve Community Educational and Literacy Programs

The Wilsonville Public Library Foundation works $oldsymbol{1}$ to raise public awareness about and financial support for the educational and literacy programs produced by the Wilsonville Public Library. Members of the board of the nonprofit Library Foundation organize fundraising events and solicit contributions from area residents and businesses.

Funds raised by the Library Foundation support a variety of library programs, including:

• Dolly Parton's Imagination Library provides a free book each month to 809 young children in Wilsonville to foster early childhood learning and literacy. Currently over 1600 local communities provide Imagination Library books to over one million children every month. With over 85 percent of cognitive learning skills being developed by age 5, this program helps parents develop their children's reading ability and learning skills.

 Summer Reading for children keeps kids reading over the summer and maintaining their reading at grade level. This year, over 2,300 children signed-up to participate in the library's Summer Reading program.

• Science Adventure is a summer program developed together by the library and foundation. OMSI presented science classes in August

Reports from City Boards and Commissions

City Council Approves Conversion to LED Street Lights, Budget Adjustment

uring the Sept. 18 City Council meeting, the Council held a public hearing and adopted on second reading two ordinances pertaining to street lighting. One ordinance changes City Code that requires the installation of long-lasting, energy-saving LED street lights rather than the older, traditional sodium vapor streetlights for new or replacement street lights. The ordinance also codifies that City-owned street lights are now maintained by the City, rather than by electrical provider PGE. The second ordinance adopted updates City Public Works Standards to require the installation of dark-sky friendly LED street lights for private and public development.

The Council approved a set of City budget adjustments totaling $6.7 million that resulted in a net increase in expenses of $489,000. The majority of line-item budget adjustments totaling $4.78 million account primarily for 34 infrastructure-related capital projects in process that roll-over from the prior fiscal year. Expenses not originally budgeted earlier in the year include wage and benefits increases based on a new Councilapproved union laborcontract, replacement of a failing heating-ventilation-air conditioning system at SMART Operations Center and completion of cleaning the Willamette River

During Communications portion of the meeting, Wilsonville emergency-services provider Tualatin Valley Fire and Rescue District Fire Chief Mike Duyck gave the "Annual State of the Fire District" presentation. Chief Duyck reported that most calls for emergency services in Wilsonville are medical in nature and are now being responded to more efficiently by "specialized paramedics." He also noted that calls for emergency services over the past four years have increased 31 percent, corresponding roughly with Fire Chief Mike Duyck Wilsonville's population and business growth.

Also during Communications, Wilsonville Building Official Dan Carlson presented to the Council about staff Building Inspector Melissa Gitt's award of "Building Inspector of the Year" by the Oregon Building

> During Citizen Input, the Council considered but declined to call-up for review a Sept. 11 decision by the Development Review Board Panel A to approve plans for development of Villebois Regional Parks 7 and 8, based on resident's request.

> During work session prior to the meeting, the Council heard reports from staff on the 5th Street to Kinsman Road construction project, demographic information about transit riders on SMART buses and a proposed Wilsonville urban renewal agency contract for engineering/design services for improvements to Tooze Road.

Library Board Hears About Youth Programs, Upcoming Remodel

t the Sept. 27 Library Board meeting, members Aheard that youth services staff are supporting upcoming City events, including the Harvest Festival at the Stein-Boozier Barn on Oct. 28 and a tour of City Hall in November for second-grade students. The first Teen Event of the school year, "Library After Dark," was reported as being a great success complete with games throughout the library and lights, fog machine and music filling the Oak Room!

Steven Engelfried, Library Services Manager, led board members on a tour of the Library centered around upcoming remodel changes throughout the library and at the patron-service areas. The design phase of renovations is nearing completion and is scheduled for approval in November by the City Council.

The Librarian's report included updates that the newly installed Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) self-check process are supporting nearly 70% of checkouts. The Boones Ferry-Wilsonville Historical Society is continuing to meet and consider how to best handle collections currently stored in the Library. The Dolly Parton Imagination Library that provides free books to young readers is likely expanding to several small counties around the state of Oregon thanks to local support here in Wilsonville.

Wilsonville and West Linn libraries are working together to better serve the communities' joint school district. Youth Services staff members from both libraries have met with school librarians, and Directors are to meet with the District Superintendent. As a part of that support West Linn plans to start an Imagination Library program.

The Board also reviewed the opening sections of the Library's policies and procedures and voted to make a number of small adjustments.

At the last meeting the Libraries in Clackamas County (LINCC) Library District Advisory Committee, members formed a subcommittee to perform a more in-depth review of library budgets in the county and come up with a better reporting system for the future to show how county money is being used on services and capital improvements.

Tickets are available for the Library Foundation's wine tasting fundraiser "A Toast to Imagination" on November 4, 7-9:30 pm, at the library and may be purchased at the Library or online at www.wplf.org.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 6, 6:30 pm, at the Library. For more information contact Pat Duke, Library Director, at 503-570-1590; Duke@wilsonvillelibrary.org.

mission meetings, commissioners reviewed and commissioners reviewed and adopted Old Town Single-Family Design Standards and related Development Code update.

First in September, the Planning Commission held a work session to review and discuss proposed Old Town Single-Family Design Standards and related Development Code updates. Subsequently, staff and consultants presented draft design-standards proposals to the City Council in work session on Oct. 2, and made a number of changes in response to comments.

Then at the October 11 Planning Commission meeting, commissioners held a public hearing on the Old Town Single-Family Development Code updates and related Single-Family Design Standards where three residents of the Old Town neighborhood testified and thanked staff for their efforts. The revised code updates were approved unanimously.

At the Sept. 13 meeting, Planning Manager Miranda Bateschell asked for input regarding recent Town Center-focused events. Discussions followed and suggestions were made regarding future businesscommunity engagement.

Planning Director Chris Neamtzu presented updates on the French Prairie 'Bike-Ped-Emergency' Bridge project and noted that the Coffee Creek Industrial Area form-based code project hearing was pushed to

Historical Society Sponsors Contest to Find the Oldest Buildings

The Wilsonville-Boones Ferry Historical Society is sponsoring a contest to find the oldest building still standing in the Wilsonville area. Last month, The Boones Ferry Messenger featured the old Methodist Church, now part of McMenamins Old Church & Pub and a beautiful example of 1911 craftsmanship by builder Joe Chalupsky.

However, the Old Church building is far from the oldest one still standing in the Wilsonville area. The Frog Pond Grange on Stafford Road was built in 1875 and the Frog Pond Church building, now the Meridian United Church of Christ, constructed in 1878.

Many other buildings in and near Wilsonville were built before 1911. Can you identify any others? Submit your best guesses and you could be a winner of dinner for two at McMenamins Old Church & Pub.

The "Find the Oldest Building Contest" offers four categories of entries:

- The largest number of buildings identified that were built before 1911.
- The oldest building still standing.
- The oldest building still in continuous use for its original purpose.
- The oldest residential structure still standing.
 Don't know the date a building was built? Ask around, do some research at the Wilsonville Public Library history center, or just make an educated guess. Some hints on building age include: If it has a wood, brick, or stone foundation, it is probably pre-1900. Concrete foundations were more common after 1910 but older buildings may have been modified with concrete additions or poured floors later on. Bathrooms are another give-away; if it looks like the bathroom was added on to the kitchen porch or off to the side, the structure probably started out with only an outdoor privy, as was the case even with the 1911 Mc-Menamins Methodist Church.

Contest rules: All buildings in the 97070 Wilsonville zip code are eligible for nomination. Structures can include residences, commercial/industrial buildings, barns or other agricultural buildings. If submitting a structure whose name or address is unknown, describe the location, look of the building and any other relevant details.

Submit entries by Thursday, Nov. 30, via email to Steve Van Wechel, president of the Wilsonville-Boones Ferry Historical Society, at wilsonvillehistory@gmail. com. The Wilsonville-Boones Ferry Historical Society will review and verify submissions and announce winners in the January issue of the Messenger.

The Frog Pond Grange on Stafford Road was built in 1875, eight years after the National Grange movement started in Washington, D.C., as the officially known "Order of Patrons of Husbandry."

Get Up to Five Free Trees

To promote healthy cool streams in Wilsonville, the City offers community members and local property owners up to five free native tree seedlings to plant on their property. The City encourages plantings along streams and other water bodies to reduce stream temperature and pollutants. The trees are obtained from a local nursery.

For more information and to get a tree coupon for five trees, contact Sarah Sand, Stormwater Management Coordinator, at 503-570-1552; sand@ci.wilsonville.or.us.

pants of the WEA Economic Development Bike Tour got an up-close look at development occurring in Wilsonville.

After a brief kick-off lunch leaving from the Stein-Boozer Barn in the Murase Plaza area of Memorial Park, riders pedaled to the future site of the proposed French Prairie 'Bike-Ped-Emergency' Bridge over the Willamette River at Boones Ferry Park. Along side the river, City staff explained the background of the project—designed for daily bike/ped use and special emergency-services use—and the current status of planning review.

Along the Willamette River at Boones Ferry Park.

The tour then proceeded west to the developing commercial heart of the Villebois 'urban-village' neighborhood, the Villebois Piazza, site of the former Dammasch State Hospital.

At the Villebois Piazza.

From there, the riders headed up hill on Grahams Ferry Road en route to Republic Services, where they learned about the company's truck-fleet conversion away from diesel fuel to compressed natural gas and a proposed food-scraps waste-matter processing facility. City staff also spoke about plans underway
