Library renovation update

The library renovation is moving forward, with some progress already visible.

The Children's Room has been painted, and the flooring removed in preparation for new carpet.

In addition, a new door will connect the Children's Office to the old Fiction area, which will be the new home for the Young Adult area.

Many service desks have been removed to get ready for new service desks. As a result, the DVDs have moved to the Non-Fiction shelves, as will the Reference collection. A portion of the Large Print books will move near the New Books shelves by the library entrance.

Imagination Library turns six

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library began running in Wilsonville in 2012.

Over the past six years, over 43,000 free books have been delivered to children up to five years old who live in the service areas for Boones Ferry, Boeckman Creek, and Lowrie Primary Schools.

The success of Imagination Library in Wilsonville has inspired an expansion of the program. Plans are in the works to extend Imagination Library to children who live anywhere within the West Linn-

Wilsonville School District with the help of the West Linn Library Foundation.

Imagination Library is generously sponsored by the Wilsonville Public Library Foundation, the Kiwanis Club of Wilsonville, and local sponsors and donors.
